

Linzer Brandschutz- und Gebäudesicherheitstage 2023

- international experts as guests in Linz
- 2-day-congress with special topics on fire protection and building safety
- evening program for the exchange of experiences in a comfortable atmosphere
- both days are valid as advanced training for the extension of the fire protection pass
- with accompanying trade exhibition

A conference that becomes an experience!

Every two years, the IBS – Institut für Brandschutztechnik und Sicherheitsforschung in Linz presents itself to a broad professional audience with an extensive range of services. In the coming year, the „Linzer Brandschutz und Gebäudesicherheitstage“ will be dedicated to the topics of "Calculation Methods and Simulations" and show up new ways in building safety and fire protection. Furthermore, experts will report on the new developments in fire protection.

Subsequent to the conference program of February 01st 2023, there will be a guided tour through the „voestalpine Stahlwelt“ from 5:15 p.m. to 6:15 p.m. for all participants of the symposium. From 6:15 p.m. the restaurant Panorama-Café will be available for an exchange of experiences in a comfortable atmosphere.

Location: voestalpine Stahlwelt, voestalpine-Straße 4, 4020 Linz, Austria
